

THE WOLF PACK RELIVES AN EVENING CELEBRATING HAVANA'S HISTORIC EL FLORIDITA, FEATURING CACHAO

★ Friday, November 11, 9:30pm to 1am
A late-night party supporting The Wolfsonian-Florida International University
At the Biltmore Hotel's Danielson Gallery
Twelve hundred Anastasia Avenue, Coral Gables, Florida
Valet and self-parking available

In the 1920's, Havana was an offshore Nevada, with traces of New York, Hollywood, and Miami thrown into the mix. During Prohibition the island was a tap of flowing liquor. Cuba offered an atmosphere of freedom, excess, and license in the pursuit of pleasure.* The Wolfsonian invites you to relive a night at El Floridita, the cradle of the daiquiri, with the music, drink, and atmosphere of an evening authentic to Cuba.

*from Cuba Style, by Vicky Gold Levi and Steven Heller

Special Musical Guest: GRAMMY® Award winner Israel "Cachao" Lopez and his all-star orchestra. Cachao takes the stage at 10pm sharp. Cocktails and dessert will be served.

Tickets: $65 in advance, $85 at the door.

Sponsored by: JPMorgan

Beverages generously provided by Bacardi USA and Southern Wine & Spirits; additional support provided by the Biltmore Hotel. Cigars provided by Mike's Cigars.
